This 1971-72 version of the North Stars' Story is the fifth — and, the editors hope, the most informative and interesting — published by Minnesota's National Hockey League team.

Its purpose is two-fold:

1. To provide information so that members of the press, radio and television are able more easily to report the activities of the North Stars.

2. To provide that same information combined with interesting photos and photo layouts to the members of the public who purchase the North Stars' Story.

It is the sincere hope of the editors that both of these purposes have been fulfilled.

LOOKING AT 1971-72

Improving on a Good Start

No matter how you slice it up, the 1970-71 season was the best in Minnesota history. But to General Manager Wren Blair and Coach Jack Gordon the year represented a point from where the North Stars could advance in the National Hockey League.

The Minnesotans went a long way last season. Blair and Gordon want them to go farther this season.

The role of prophet is an unsteady perch in hockey. Too many intangibles can spoil the best of predictions. But the North Stars look as if they have improved themselves over the summer.

Blair managed a couple of deals that added strength and depth up front when he landed right winger Bob Nevin from New York and center Dennis Hextall from California. The two newcomers should flesh out the corps of forwards that was talented but thin last season.

The remarkable improvement shown by Minnesota's younger defensemen and the leadership of such veterans as Captain Ted Harris and Doug Mohns — also a threat up front — indicates another drop in the North Stars' goals-against total.

Cesare Maniago and Gump Worsley provide stalwart and experienced goalkeeping. But youngsters Gilles Gilbert and Fern Rivard are nipping at their heels.

Perhaps the most important factor of all is the teamwork that emerged late last season and which Gordon hopes to carry over into this year.

That will do more than anything else to aid Minnesota in what always is the dog-eat-dog struggle for a playoff position in the West Division.

WALTER BUSH, JR. President

If Walter Bush, Jr., had his choice of any job in the world, he very likely would choose to remain exactly where he is — president of a National Hockey League team. It seems that most of Bush's 42 years were spent in preparation for just such a position — playing days at Breck School and Dartmouth and later in amateur ranks; minor-league and Olympic management; executive positions at the state and national amateur level. This led the Twin Cities attorney to a large role in obtaining an NHL franchise for Minnesota and to the presidency of the North Stars. Bush is responsible for day to day operation of the organization, which includes not only a hockey team, but also the intricacies of managing a 15,000-seat building. He has maintained his position as secretary of the United States Olympic Committee's Hockey Committee and retains an abiding interest in the success of hockey at all levels. The North Stars' president is a talented golfer and skier and pursues both recreations when the demands of his position permit. Bush and his wife, Mary, make their home in the Twin Cities suburb of Edina. They are the parents of two sons and one daughter.

WREN BLAIR
General Manager

It has been said that Minnesota will become the first of the newer National Hockey League to gain parity with the older teams. If that is true, then much of the credit must go to Wren Blair, who has spent the years since Minnesota hired him in 1966 patiently building this franchise from the bottom up. The 46-year-old native of Oshawa, Ont., coached the North Stars one full season and part of two others, but devoted all of his time to his general manager duties last year after hiring Jack Gordon to handle the team on the ice. Blair has been a hockey executive most of his adult life and success has smiled over his shoulder wherever he has gone. He has coached and managed Canadian and world amateur champions. He landed hockey's greatest prize when he signed Bobby Orr to his first contract. His teams at Minnesota not only have been artistic successes, but also have been winners at the gate. What looms in the future? Blair's fondest dream is to bring the Stanley Cup to Minnesota. The North Stars' general manager and his wife, Elma, make their home in Edina and spend part of the summer in Haliburton, Ont. They have two children, a boy and a girl.

JACK GORDON
Coach

To claim that Jack Gordon was a success in his first season of coaching a National Hockey League team is hardly an overstatement. The 43-year-old native of Winnipeg guided the North Stars to the most victories and most points ever earned by a Minnesota team in one season, then proceeded to capture the first playoff triumphs ever earned by a new NHL team over an established club. Jack's success is no surprise to Wren Blair, who hired him, and to hockey people all over North America, who admire him. Gordon came to Minnesota from Cleveland where he served the Barons 17 seasons as player, player-coach, coach and general manager and where he played a role in four Calder Cup titles. His duties in Cleveland were interrupted by a four-year stay in New York where he was the Rangers' assistant general manager. Jack spent most of 14 seasons as a professional in hockey's high minors, but the clever center played 36 games at New York. Gordon is a soft-spoken, polite man, but, as his players well know, a taskmaster on the ice. The Minnesota coach and his wife, Joyce, are the parents of a boy and a girl. They make their home in Edina.

JOHN MARIUCCI

Special Assistant to the General Manager

John Mariucci has been a jack of all trades since he joined the North Stars in 1967. Maroosh has scouted, conducted practices, acted as a road secretary and actually coached a couple of games. There's no niche where the 55-year-old native of Eveleth, Minn., can't be placed by General Manager Wren Blair. A hockey and football star at the University of Minnesota, Mariucci is one of the few United States-born players to make it big in the NHL. He played five seasons for Chicago, then coached the Gopher hockey team for 14 years before joining the North Stars. Mariucci and his family make their home in Bloomington.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

HAROLD COTTON
Director of Field Operations

Of all of the newer teams in the National Hockey League, Minnesota is ranked best on a top to bottom basis. The North Stars are not only strong in the majors, but also in the minors. Much of the credit for that state of affairs goes to Harold (Baldy) Cotton, who oversees the North Stars' talent hunting efforts. The 68-year-old former NHL star, whose dry sense of humor often catches his co-workers unaware, was hired by the North Stars during the 1967-68 season. He was a long-time employee of the Boston organization where he helped sign many of today's Bruin stars. Cotton and his wife live in Trent River, Ont., during the summer, in Toronto during hockey season.

TED O'CONNOR
Chief Scout

Ted O'Connor is a travelin' man from September through May as he criss-crosses the continent, covering all hockey leagues in search of new talent for the North Stars. The Minnesota chief scout has been highly successful in his job. The proof lies in the North Stars' success on the ice. O'Connor played amateur and professional hockey and also was a sought-after baseball prospect in his younger days. He joined the North Stars during 1967. The 40-year-old O'Connor and his family make their home in Oshawa, Ont.

GERALD BLAIR
Chief Eastern Canada Scout

Though Gerry Blair's field is not limited to Eastern Canada, that's where the major portion of his work is done. The 35-year-old hockey executive keeps a sharp eye on the crop of juniors which graduates each year from the Ontario Hockey Association. He also makes field trips to other major junior leagues in Canada. Then in June this effort pays off when the North Stars participate in the annual Amateur Draft. Blair also spends time on other scouting assignments during the season. He and his family make their home in Oshawa, Ont.

THE CLEVELAND ORGANIZATION

NICK MILETI
Barons' President

To say that Nick Mileti is active in professional sports falls a little short of the mark. Hyper-active might more adequately describe the owner of the American Hockey League Barons and the National Basketball Association Cavaliers. Mileti purchased the Barons in 1968, gained an NBA franchise for the Cavaliers in 1970, then in 1971 revealed plans for a new, $17 million Coliseum outside of Cleveland. Mileti is a graduate of Bowling Green University and of the Ohio State University Law School. He is a nationally-recognized authority on senior citizens' housing and heads his own firm in that field. Mileti and his family make their home in a Cleveland suburb.

JOHN MUCKLER
Barons' General Manager-Coach

John Muckler wants to move the Barons up one more step next season. After successive second place seasons at Cleveland in 1970-71 and in Waterloo, Iowa, in 1969-70, he is aiming at a championship. The 37-year-old Muckler is no stranger to titles. His teams at Long Island were title winners in the regular season and in the playoffs. Since then he has coached or managed teams at Memphis and Waterloo in the Central League, at Minnesota in the NHL and at Cleveland last season. The former minor-league defenseman, a native of Paris, Ont., makes his home with his family in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND'S NEW COLISEUM

AN ARTIST'S CONCEPTION OF THE NEW

THE NEW HAVEN ORGANIZATION

PARKER MACDONALD
Nighthawks' General Manager-Coach

Though New Haven's Nighthawks, latest additions to the Minnesota system, won't take to the ice in the American League until the 1972-73 season, Parker MacDonald has been appointed general manager-coach of the new team. The 38-year-old veteran of 15 years in the National League is fresh from successful seasons at Waterloo and Cleveland where he coached his charges to second place each year. MacDonald will spend much of this season at Minnesota preparing for his general manager's role by working with Minnesota General Manager Wren Blair. MacDonald and his wife, Brenda, live in Edina.

FRED BARRETT

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 188 lbs.
Age: 21 (Jan. 26, 1950)
Born: Ottawa, Ont.
Home: Toronto, Ont.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

Until a broken femur sidelined him late last season, Fred Barrett made a smashing success of his freshman year in the National Hockey League. The young defenseman surprised one and all by winning a starting position at training camp and held on to it with an iron grip until he crashed into a goalpost last March and wrote an early finish to an outstanding rookie year. Barrett, No. 2 draft choice of the North Stars in 1970, emerged as one of the best young hitters in all of hockey. His hard but clean checks caught many unwary foes and sent them flying. The fracture, which occured in the body's largest bone, took time to heal, but Barrett worked especially hard during the off-season to return his leg to top condition . . . He was paired with Capt. Ted Harris on the blueline during the 1970-71 season . . . Coach Jack Gordon played Barrett on his off side, that is, he shoots left but plays the right side. He also played right defense during his junior days with the Toronto Marlboros . . . Though Barrett has a good shot, he didn't score a goal last season in contrast to his final junior year when he connected eight times . . . Fred was married during the summer.

CHARLIE BURNS

Height: 5'11" – Weight: 177 lbs.
Born: Detroit, Mich.
Home: Santa Rosa, Calif.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

Charlie Burns does everything but flood the rink for the North Stars – and he no doubt could handle that job if he was called on. The list of Burns' assorted talents would run off the bottom of the page. He played center, right wing and left wing last season. He is one of hockey's best penalty killers. He's not heralded as a goal-scorer, but he connected for three vital goals in the Stanley Cup playoffs. Two years ago he coached the North Stars, from the bench and on the ice, for more than half a season. The key to the man is his versatility, a key that Coach Jack Gordon found useful time after time last year . . . Burns was a protege of General Manager Wren Blair when Blair guided Whitby to the world championship . . . His nickname is Chaz . . . Charlie and his wife, Carol, are the parents of Karyn, 12 . . . Burns' plus-minus ranking was dead even last season . . . Teamed with Murray Oliver to do most of Minnesota's penalty skating and with Oliver and Lou Nanne to make up Minnesota's most formidable line in the playoffs .

TERRY CAFFERY

Height: 5'9" – Weight: 165 lbs.
Age: 22 (April 1, 1949)
Born: Toronto, Ont.
Home: Ottawa, Ont.
Right Handed, Shoots Right

Terry Caffery was born on April Fool's Day back in 1949 and the Minnesota center has fooled a lot of people ever since then. He comes in a small package but has been an outstanding performer both as a junior and in professional hockey's minor leagues. Caffery came to Minnesota late last season as part of the trade with Chicago that sent Danny O'Shea to the Hawks and Doug Mohns and Caffery to Minnesota. He saw limited action curing the balance of the season and the playoffs, but General Manager Wren Blair feels that the youngster has a fine future in the Minnesota organization. Caffery's greatest strength at center is his ability to handle the puck. As a junior performer he was ranked as one of the most clever stickhandlers in the Ontario Hockey Association . . . Played for Canada's National team . . . A high Chicago draft choice in 1969 . . . Terry is married . . . One of the more natty dressers on a well-dressed club . . . Played most of last season for Chicago's Dallas farm club in the Central League.

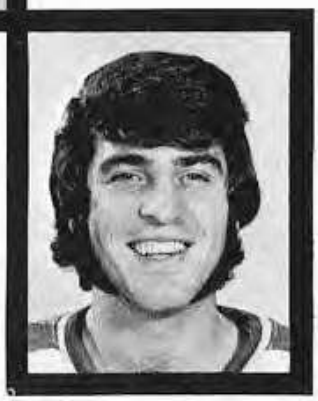
NORTHLAN



JUDE (jewd)
DROUIN (DREW-ehn)

Height: 5'9" – Weight: 162 lbs.
Age: 22 (Oct. 28, 1948)
Born: Mont-Louis, Que.
Home: Houston, Tex.
Right Handed, Shoots Right

Jude Drouin was the near-unanimous choice of his peers, the hockey players of the National League, as Sporting News West Division rookie of the year and was No. 2 in voting for the NHL's Calder Trophy. Small wonder. Drouin broke into the NHL with very much of a bang. His 52 assists led all rookies in the league and played a large role in the goalscoring feats of Drouin's wingers, Danny Grant and Bill Goldsworthy. In the West Division his 68 points was exceeded by only two players, Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita. A playmaker by preference, Drouin fooled his foes when he turned goalscorer with five tallies in the Stanley Cup playoffs . . . Impartial observers rank the 1970 deal by General Manager Wren Blair that brought Drouin from Montreal to Minnesota in exchange for Bill Collins as perhaps the best ever made by the Minnesota executive . . . The line of Drouin, Grant and Goldsworthy scored 84 goals, most ever by a North Stars line . . . One of Drouin's assets is his willingness to absorb punishment in order to make a play . . . Second oldest of 10 children . . . Rookie of the year and all-star center in the AHL in 1969-70 . . . Jude and his wife, Deborah, live during the off-season in Houston, her home town . . . Scored at least one point in 17 successive games last season.

BARRY GIBBS

Height: 5'10" – Weight: 185 lbs.
Age: 23 (Sept. 28, 1948)
Born: Lloydminster, Sask.
Home: Bloomington, Minn.

During the two seasons he has played in the National Hockey League Barry Gibbs has matured and evolved into a finished NHL defenseman. In his first season with the North Stars Gibbs had to carry an outsized portion of the team's police load. He set a Minnesota record of 182 penalty minutes that year. Then the North Stars acquired Ted Harris. The pair were able to share the police work and Gibbs blossomed as a fine all-round defender. He's still a bruiser. Just ask his opponents. But his five goals and 20 points led all Minnesota defensemen and are indicative of his increasing mastery of his position while still a youngster . . . Gibbs led all Minnesotans with 132 minutes in penalties last season . . . Joined the helmet wearing crew last season . . . He and his wife, Sherron, are the parents of two children . . . Biggest thrill in hockey came in 1969-70 when his third-period shot from the red line beat Philadelphia, 1-0, on the next-to-last day of the season and put Minnesota in the playoffs . . . Is one of a family of seven . . . Acquired by Minnesota from Boston in 1969 . . . Voted the North Stars' best rookie in 1969-70.

GILLES (Jill)
GILBERT (Jill-BEAR)

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 173 lbs.
Age: 22 (March 21, 1949)
Born: St. Esprit, Que.
Home: Quebec City, Que.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

Gilles Gilbert made a stunning debut last year when he broke into the North Stars' lineup with back-to-back victories over Montreal and Chicago. That level of performance was difficult to maintain, but the youngster finished the season with five triumphs and two ties, most of them gained against the fiercest of competition – more often than not one of the league leaders. With a season in the NHL under his belt, the swift-handed youngster looks more and more as if he'll take over as Minnesota's No. 1 goalie in the near future. His greatest assets are his speed of hand and foot. All he lacks is experience in what is probably the most demanding job in all sports . . . Gilbert's greatest thrill in hockey was the 3-1 victory he gained in his first appearance in the Montreal Forum with his family in attendance . . . Enjoys betting his teammates that they won't score on him in one-on-one situations in practice . . . Nickname is Gilly . . . One of the unmarried North Stars . . . Plays semipro baseball in the summer. His position is shortstop . . . Has tried to model his style on that of the late Terry Sawchuk . . . Minnesota's No. 3 selection in the 1969 draft.

BILL (GOLDY) GOLDSWORTHY

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 199 lbs.
Age: 27 (Aug. 24, 1944)
Born: Kitchener, Ont.
Home: Bloomington, Minn.

All but five players in the National Hockey League voted Bill Goldsworthy as No. 1 West Division right winger in the annual Sporting News poll. The distinction was deserved. Only the Hull brothers, Bobby and Dennis, scored more goals than Goldy among West performers. And nobody in the West scored more and faster than the Minnesota right sider in the second half of the season. Goldsworthy had only nine goals halfway through the year, but scored 23 times during the second half. It was the second successive 30-goal or better season for Goldy, who has reached the stardom predicted by General Manager Wren Blair when he took the big forward during the 1967 Expansion draft. The recipe for Goldsworthy's success is simple enough: he is big, strong, a powerful skater and shoots the puck hard . . . Became the first North Star to score four goals in one game last season . . . Goldy and Cesare Maniago are the only two original North Stars remaining from the '67 Expansion draft . . . Led the North Stars in game-winning goals with seven . . . Bill and his wife, June, are the parents of a girl, 3.

When you average 32.3 goals a season in your first three full years in the National Hockey League, you must be doing something right. Danny Grant's been doing something right. He won the Calder Trophy awarded the NHL's rookie of the year with 34 goals in 1968-69, "slumped" to 29 goals in 1969-70 and bounced back with 34 more last year. Many felt that the left winger with the cannon shot was the most improved North Star last year. Certainly, he proved that he was a two-way player when he logged a plus 7, best plus-minus figure on the squad. Grant also led the team in power play goals with 12 to his credit. His scoring percentage of 12.0 was the best of any of the regular North Stars . . . Grant has been the most durable North Star over the past three seasons, missing only one game in that span . . . Came up through the Montreal system and was traded to Minnesota in 1968 . . . Has an even 100 NHL goals, 97 for Minnesota, 3 for Montreal . . . Danny and his wife, Linda, are the parents of a girl, 1 . . . Operates his own hockey school during the off-season and also spends as much time as possible trout and salmon fishing in New Brunswick.

TED HAMPSON

Height: 5'8" – Weight: 173 lbs.
Age: 35
Born: Togo, Sask.
Home: Flin Flon, Man.

After the 1968-69 season Ted Hampson was awarded the Bill Masterton Trophy given "to the NHL player who best exemplifies the qualities of perserverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey." That sums up Ted Hampson who did wonders for the North Stars after he was obtained from California during the latter portion of last season. Hampson brought with him not only his fine playmaking capabilities, but also a reputation for two-way performance, and, not least, gave the North Stars a third strong penalty skater to join Charlie Burns and Murray Oliver.

Height: 6'2" – Weight: 180 lbs.
Age: 35 (July 18, 1936)
Born: Winnipeg, Man.
Home: Bloomington, Minn.

Ted Harris will tell you that no single player deserves credit for the North Stars' fine showing last season. That's true. It was a team effort. But part of the reason it was a team effort was Harris' leadership as captain of the Minnesota team. The tall, slim defenseman, acquired from Montreal in the summer of 1970, contributed not only leadership, but also a hard-hitting and steady style that helped balance the young Minnesota defense . . . Harris is the fourth captain to serve the North Stars . . . He and Danny Grant represented the North Stars in the NHL All-Star game . . . Played seven straight seasons at Montreal . . . Spends part of his summers at a cabin on Lake Winnipeg . . . Ted and his wife, Maureen, are the parents of two boys, 12 and 7, and one girl, 6.

Buster Harvey became living proof of the wisdom of Minnesota's scouting staff when the youngster from New Brunswick cracked the National League after the North Stars made him their No. 1 choice in the 1970 Amateur Draft. A big, strong youngster who bears a remarkable physical resemblance to the young Gordie Howe, Buster profits by doing a solid up and down positional job on his right wing. He was especially effective during the first half of last season, but was slowed by injuries in the latter half of the year. A timely scorer, he connected for three game winners and two game-tiers among his 12 goals . . . A fellow-townsman of North Star Danny Grant . . . One of the unmarried Minnesota players . . . Played junior hockey for the Hamilton Red Wings of the Ontario Hockey Association . . . Buster was a defenseman as a youngster, playing eight years on the blue line before he switched to right wing . . . His father is a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Dennis Hextall, obtained in an off-season trade from California, is certain to add scoring strength, depth and sock to Minnesota corps of center. The rugged former North Dakota University star was the Golden Seals' leading scorer last winter and second only to Chicago's Keith Magnuson in penalty minutes piled up during the 1970-71 season. He had 217 minutes in the penalty box, a good chunk of them earned in a classic clash with Minnesota's Bill Goldsworthy. The man they call Hex comes by his talent honestly. His father, Bryan Hextall, is a former Rangers' star and a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame. His brother, Bryan, Jr., plays for Pittsburgh...Hextall was voted most valuable player in the St. Paul Christmas Collegiate tournament when he performed for North Dakota...Studied biology and natural science in college and returned to take additional courses this past summer... Also works as a hockey school instructor during the off-season.

BILL HEINDL (HINE-dull)

Height: 5'10" – Weight: 175 lbs.
Age: 25 (May 13, 1946)
Born: Sherbrooke, Que.
Home: Winnipeg, Man.

Bill Heindl made an outstanding impression during his first year of professional hockey. With a year of experience under his belt, he's ready for a solid shot at an NHL position. Though he spent most of the season in Cleveland, Heindl came up to the North Stars for 12 games and scored his first NHL goal in the process. He impressed the coaching staff with the way he played his position, rarely straying off the left wing and keeping a tight rein on his opposing winger. Bill has a good, hard shot that kept American League goalies hopping last season . . . Heindl's dad was an outstanding hockey player . . . Bill played for Canada's National team before he was picked up by the North Stars . . . His lone goal for the North Stars was the first goal of the game, giving him a 100 per cent ranking in the important goal department . . . Heindl is not married.

GORDIE LABOSSIERE
(la-BOSS-ee-yay)

Height: 6'1" – Weight: 179 lbs.
Age: 31 (Jan. 2, 1940)
Born: St. Boniface, Man.
Home: Lac Beauport, Que.
Right Handed, Shoots Right

Lanky Gordie Labossiere joined the North Stars past the midpoint of last season and made a handsome contribution in the team's drive to the playoffs. Coach Jack Gordon hopes the tall center, a strong, two-way performer, can add the depth the North Stars need down the middle. Labossiere's long stride makes him a deceptive skater. He doesn't look as if he's moving fast, but he actually is cruising at a good clip. Gordie is clever around the net and a hard-hitting forechecker . . . Was obtained by the North Stars last January as part of a three-cornered deal among Minnesota, Montreal and Los Angeles . . . Labossiere was the No. 1 skating player chosen by Los Angeles in the 1967 Expansion draft.

CESARE MANIAGO (mahn-ee-AH-go)

Height: 6'3" – Weight: 185 lbs.
Age: 32 (Jan. 13, 1939)
Born: Trail, B.C.
Home: North Burnaby, B.C.

Cesare Maniago played the lowest percentage of the North Stars' schedule last year that he has since he was taken by Minnesota in the 1967 Expansion draft. The tall fellow from interior British Columbia played 51 per cent of the schedule, compared to 71 per cent in 1967-68, 86 per cent in 1968-69 and 70 per cent in 1969-70. But there are many observers who feel that Cesare played the best goal of his career last year. His average was the lowest he's posted as an NHL regular. His five shutouts were the best he's ever had in ratio to games played. It seems, like many goalkeepers, that Maniago is finding that his 30's are his golden years . . . Maniago and Bill Goldsworthy are the last of the 20 original North Stars taken in the Expansion draft . . . Cesare and his wife, Mavis, are the parents of three girls, 6, 4 and 1 .

DOUG MOHNS (moanz)

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 190 lbs.
Age: 37 (Dec. 31, 1933)
Born: Capreol, Ont.
Home: Braintree, Mass.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

To say that Doug Mohns has made a difference for Minnesota would be an understatement of gross proportions. Acquired from Chicago late last season, he first filled in at left wing, then moved back to defense after Fred Barrett's leg fracture. He acquitted himself with such distinction that Coach Jack Gordon is hard pressed to decide where to play him this year. At either position Mohns' greatest asset is the fluid-drive skating that makes him one of the swiftest men in the league. Mohns started his NHL career as a defenseman – he scored a then almost unheard of 20 goals at the position for Boston in 1959-60 – then was switched to left wing on Chicago's famous Scooter line where he performed with equal skill.

WAYNE MULOIN (MULL-loin)

Height: 5'8" – Weight: 175 lbs.
Age: 29 (Dec. 24, 1941)
Born: Dryden, Ont.
Home: Edmonton, Alta.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

Wayne Muloin joined the North Stars at the tag end of last year and contributed to the North Stars' success not only during the regular season, but also during the playoffs. The stocky blueliner is a hitter from the old school typified by belters such as retired North Star Leo Boivin. His build allows him to get low when he is throwing a check and to lift his opponents up in the air. Also a capable puck handler and good shot. Muloin is no stranger to the Twin Cities. He played for St. Paul's Central League team in 1964-65 . . . Works in an Edmonton department store during the off-season . . . Wayne and his wife, Maxine, are the parents of a boy, 6, and a girl, 3 . . . Maxine is the sister of former major league pitcher Bill Monboquette . . . Wayne was dealt to the North Stars as part of the deal that also brought Ted Hampson to Minnesota.

LOU NANNE (Nanny)

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 187 lbs.
Age: 30 (June 2, 1941)
Born: Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.
Home: Edina, Minn.
Right Handed, Shoots Right

Lou Nanne made the transition from defenseman to right winger in admirable fashion last season and with results that surprised both friend and foe. Coach Jack Gordon put together a line of Nanne, center Murray Oliver and left winger Charlie Burns in the playoffs for checking purposes. The line not only checked its foes to distraction, but also became the North Stars' biggest offensive threat. Nanne was one of the most important reasons that the line was so threatening. The former University of Minnesota captain and All-American scored three goals, assisted on six more and was a terror in the corners. Nanne's ability to play both up front and back on the blueline confronts Gordon with the pleasant dilemma of where to spot him this season . . . Captained the U.S. Olympic team at Grenoble in 1968 . . . Nanne is employed by a Twin Cities printing firm during the off-season . . . Lou and his wife, Francine, are the parents of a girl, 7, twin boys, 5, and another boy, 3 . . . A naturalized United States citizen.

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 193 lbs.
Age: 33 (March 18, 1938)
Born: South Porcupine, Ont.

A trade that looms large in the North Stars' future was completed last summer when Minnesota General Manager Wren Blair obtained Bob Nevin from New York. Coach Jack Gordon called him "a two-way player who comes back just as hard as he goes ahead." Nevin was routinely assigned the most difficult checking chores at New York, yet averaged 24.5 goals over the past six seasons. The Rangers' captain held Chicago's Bobby Hull to just two goals in their Stanley Cup series last year. Both came off faceoffs. His plus-minus ranking at New York last year was plus-17, better than any player on the Minnesota squad. He also led the Rangers with seven of the important first goals . . . Wears contact lenses .

Height: 6'0" – Weight: 190
Age: 22 (June 10, 1949)
Born: Port Hope, Ont.
Home: Port Hope, Ont.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

Dennis O'Brien went through a difficult test last season and emerged with high marks that should stand him in good stead this year. The rugged youngster played on and off for the North Stars during the second half of the season, but was thrust into the spotlight when Doug Mohns was injured during the playoffs. O'Brien took over as a regular on defense under the toughest of conditions – against Montreal in the semifinals. His earlier reputation had been built on leading the Ontario Hockey Association and the Central League in penalty minutes. But O'Brien showed great skill and fortitude against the Canadiens and established himself as a strong candidate for a place on the Minnesota defense . . . His nickname is Obie . . . Had 331 minutes in penalties two seasons back at Iowa . . . A hockey school instructor in the off-season . . . Not married . . . Scored his first NHL goal against St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall last season . . . One of a family of nine, six boys and three girls.

MURRAY OLIVER

Height: 5'9" – Weight: 178 lbs.
Age: 33 (Nov. 14, 1937)
Born: Hamilton, Ont.
Home: Port Credit, Ont.
Right Handed, Shoots Left

The man they call Muzz was rated by most observers the best man on the ice for Minnesota during the Stanley Cup playoffs last spring. The figures bear out the contention. Oliver not only scored more goals than any other Minnesotan in the playoffs, but also centered the No. 1 offensive line of Oliver, Lou Nanne and Charlie Burns and did heroic work skating off penalties. Had Minnesota advanced to the final round, he surely would have been a prime candidate for the Conn Smythe Trophy awarded to the outstanding performer in the playoffs. Slowed somewhat by injuries during the regular season, Oliver nevertheless managed to score his 200th National League goal . . . Muzz and his wife, Helen, are the parents of a boy, 8, and a girl, 3 . . . Works in sales during the off-season . . . Was named most valuable player in the Ontario Hockey Association in 1958.

JEAN PAUL (J.P.) PARISE (pah-REE-see)

Height: 5'9" – Weight: 178 lbs.
Age: 29 (Dec. 11, 1941)
Born: Smooth Rock Falls, Ont.
Home: Bloomington, Minn.

J.P. Parise's point production last season was only half of what he scored the previous season. But Parise feels that he was a better hockey player in 1970-71 than he was in 1971-72. There's more to the game than scoring, he points out. Certainly Parise's plus-minus figures were far more impressive last year, which makes the point that J.P. was an improved two-way player. And he retained his reputation as one of the National League's strongest and most skillful cornermen . . . Parise holds the North Stars' record of 72 points in one season . . . Teaches in the North Stars' hockey school during the summer . . . J.P. and his wife, Margaret, are the parents of a girl, 5 and a boy, 2 . . . Called Jeep by his teammates . . . Came to Minnesota in December of 1967 as part of a seven-player trade with Rochester and is ranked third among the North Stars in longevity.

TOM REID

Height: 6'1" – Weight: 203 lbs.
Age: 25 (June 24, 1946)
Born: Fort Erie, Ont.
Home: Fort Erie, Ont.

Adversity brought out the best in Tom Reid last season and the experience should stand him in good stead on the Minnesota blue line this winter. Reid was playing regularly at left defense when right defenseman Fred Barrett fractured his leg late last season. Tom was then shifted by Coach Jack Gordon to the right side where he never had played before and where he performed on his "off" side. It took Reid a short time to adjust, but when he did, he played outstanding hockey during the regular season and in the playoffs. This year he's ready, no matter on which side the coach decides to play him . . . Tripled his NHL goal production with three tallies last season . . . Obtained by the North Stars in a trade with Chicago during the 1968-69 season . . . Works as a partner with his brother in a sporting goods store in Fort Erie during the summer . . . Tom and his wife, Susan, were married just before the 1970-71 season . . . An OHA all-star during his final junior season at St. Catherines.

One of hockey's grand old men – he's second only to Jacques Plante (by four months) in age among goaltenders – Gump Worsley seems to get better and better as the years roll by. Many younger goalies would be jealous of his 2.49 goals-against average or of the three victories he posted over St. Louis in the Stanley Cup play-offs. But Gump shrugs it off. After all, he's played 769 regular-season NHL games. Who knows? He may hit more than 1,000 before he calls it a career. One of the very few goalies in hockey who doesn't use a mask, Gump knows all the tricks of the trade. He simply doesn't beat himself, which is more than 75 per cent of playing goal . . . Two-time winner of the Vezina Trophy and an NHL first all-star once and a second all-star on another occasion . . . The North Stars' player representative . . . Purchased by Minnesota from Montreal in March of 1969 . . . Worsley started his professional career in the Twin Cities, breaking in with St. Paul of the United States League in 1950 . . . Gump and his wife, Doreen, are the parents of three boys.

THE NORTH STARS' TRAINERS

Trainer
STAN WAYLETT

Asst. Trainer
DICK ROSE

The team of head trainer Stan Waylett and assistant Dick (Doc) Rose will minister to the needs of the North Stars this season.

Although their duties necessarily overlap, Waylett has responsibility for the physical well-being of the Minnesota players while Rose is in charge of maintaining and handling the team's equipment.

Waylett is starting his fifth season in the position he has held since the birth of the team and his 21st in association with General Manager Wren Blair. The 58-year-old trainer has been active in his profession for 33 years. He was trainer for Blair's world championship team in 1956 and at the NHL All-Star game in 1969.

The 33-year-old Rose served as trainer for the United States Olympic and National teams before joining the North Stars last season.

NORTH STARS' RADIO and TV TEAMS

HAL KELLY

AL SHAVER

JOE BOYLE

Television and radio will again occupy a prominent place on the North Stars' scene during the 1971-72 season.

WTCN-TV (Channel 11) will carry 30 Minnesota games, 27 on the road and four at home. Torontonian Hal Kelly will return as play by play announcer for the television contests. Joe Boyle will continue to host the intermission shows.

WCCO-Radio (830) will again carry each and every one of the 78 Minnesota games, 39 at home and 39 on the road.

Al Shaver is back for the fifth successive season as play by play man for the North Stars' radio broadcasts.
